The research library collects published and unpublished materials related to the greater Yellowstone area to make them available to park staff, researchers, and the public. Get a library card to enjoy these resources!

library resources

research collections

The library collection consists of more than 20,000 books, periodicals, theses and dissertations, maps, unpublished manuscripts, microforms of historic newspapers and scrapbooks, brochures, technical reports, and audio-visual material.

digital collections

You can access our digitized collections through the Montana History Portal and Archives West. You can also access various research databases using your library card.

interlibrary loan

If we don't have a book you want, request it via interlibrary loan (ILL) on our website. Contact us if you have questions about ILL!

resource guides

Yellowstone librarians maintain a collection of Resource Guides that live on our website that break down library resources by topic, allowing you to get a head start on the research process.

personalized book recommendations

Overwhelmed with options? Fill out our Personalized Book Recommendation form and a librarian will get back to you with recommendations from our collection.
